PRAISE AFTER BIKER CRASH

Rumours of fatal accident quashed

BY ANDERS LARSSON
anders@findlenews.co.uk

AN Axminster biker, rumoured to have died, has praised those who came to his aid after an accident. "Rumours of my death have been greatly exaggerated. I'm still breathing," John Pike said.

Mr Pike was riding his motorcycle in Chard Road on Thursday, December 10th when he collided with a lorry.

The air ambulance was called and a crowd formed to watch the drama.

The accident happened at about 3.10pm and as soon as 5pm, rumours were doing the rounds that it had been a fatal accident.

Police bulletins later put a stop to the rumours, saying the motorcyclist had been taken to hospital with non life-threatening injuries.

A week after the accident, Mr Pike visited the Pulman's View office in Axminster to ask for newspaper material of the accident.

He said he discharged himself from hospital on the Monday after the accident, and was still a bit sore — especially when laughing.

"Please don't make me laugh," he said.

Mr Pike has two pins in his arm, two broken ribs and also suffered lung and liver damage.

He remembers starting to overtake a car, saying: "I was attempting to overtake a car and saw the lorry at the top of the hill." He also remembers realising that he had nowhere to go apart from into a car, bollard or the lorry.

Mr Pike doesn't remember the impact and believes he came round two or three minutes later as a passer-by was tending to him.

He is full of praise for everyone who assisted him at the scene — members of the public and emergency services personnel — as well as everyone who called the hospital to hear how he was doing.

Mr Pike says his close call won't stop him from riding a bike again, and even managed to joke about it, saying: "My mate was jealous that I got to ride in the air ambulance. But I didn't get much of a view, only a door lock and blue sky."

Police say there is no criminal investigation being carried out in relation to the accident.

Burglars take £9k jewellery

JEWELLERY worth an estimated total of £9,000 has been stolen from a house in Wyke, near Axminster.

The burglary took place at some point between 3pm and 11.15pm on Wednesday, December 16th.

The perpetrator/s gained entry through a bedroom window and the haul included an emerald and diamond ring, a gold chain with a string of pearls, a single-diamond ring and much more.

Police would like to hear from anyone who may have watched something suspicious or has information that could help investigators.

Anyone with information is asked to call 08452 777 444 and ask for Axminster police.

The crime reference number is KA/09/653.

Permission for a mural

AN Axminster 'eyesore' might be brightened up with a mural.

Axminster Community Enterprise (ACE) has revealed it is looking into ways of making the Webster's frontage more appealing.

ACE's Andrew Moulding, who is also on Axminster Town Council, has informed fellow councillors that Axminster Arts is very interested in playing a part.

Mr Moulding also said that costs and interest from other organisations are being looked into.

The owner of the building has given permission for the project and the proposed project does not require planning permission.

An update is expected when Axminster Town Council meets in January.

Thieves hit pool again

THE Flamingo Pool in Axminster has been hit by burglars for the third time in a short space of time.

The most recent incident took place between 11pm and 11.20pm on Thursday, December 17th.

A window was smashed to gain entry and vending machines were damaged but nothing was taken.

Police say forensic evidence was found at the scene but would like potential witnesses to get in touch on 08452 777 444.

Please ask for Axminster police and quote crime reference KA/09/657.

Town supermarket to submit extension plan

BY ANDERS LARSSON
anders@tindlenews.co.uk

TESCO has revealed it will submit a planning application to extend its Axminster branch before the end of the year.

One of the features included in the application will be a footbridge linking the proposed upper shop and car park level with the town centre.

The application was expected to have been submitted earlier this year, but was put on the backburner as Tesco concentrated its efforts on an application to build a store in Seaton.

A company spokesperson said: "Following consultations earlier this year with the chamber of commerce, Axminster Town Council and other organisations, a £350,000 footbridge from the upper level of the proposed new store and car park has now been included.

"The footbridge will connect with the existing footpath to the town centre making linked shopping trips between Tesco and local shops easier."

Tesco is proposing to extend the store in Axminster in response to shoppers' requests for an increased range of products and improved product availability.

Research commissioned by Tesco showed that 78 per cent of shoppers interviewed wanted to see the store improved, with 66 per cent requesting a greater range of products and improved product availability.

But it is still unclear exactly what product ranges are involved, and whether they include non-food items.

The statement didn't elaborate on the issue, and the office which issued it did not have more detailed information.

The issue of more non-food products has raised concern in the local business community, which is expected to welcome news of a footbridge, though.

If the application is approved, the store's total retail space will increase from 18,357 ft² to 30,353 ft².

It also anticipated that the development would create 40 new jobs.

Juliette Bishop, corporate affairs manager for Tesco, said: "We know that many people like to visit our store for their groceries but also like to visit the unique range of shops in Axminster."

"We have managed to incorporate the footbridge into the design for the new store and we are delighted that we have been able to do so."

"It should make these linked shopping trips easier which will benefit both Tesco's customers and our town centre neighbours."

The proposed design will incorporate a range of environmental features to reduce the store's carbon emission; including a combined heat power unit. The unit will provide heating and generate electricity as a by-product.

Community group attempts to provide ACE bus service

BY ANDERS LARSSON
anders@tindlenews.co.uk

AXMINSTER Community Enterprise (ACE) is in the early stages of attempts to provide a bus service for the Axe Valley.

ACE members have already sounded out a number of parish councils, which are said to be very interested and supportive of the idea.

ACE member and town councillor Andrew

Moulding informed the town council of the ongoing project during the authority's December meeting.

He said that Axminster Seniors' Forum has for some time tried to set up a town bus service in Axminster.

The forum has not had any luck but ACE feels there could be some mileage in the idea if a bigger geographical area is covered.

Apart from Axminster, villages like Shute, Whitford, Kilminster, Dalwood and Stockland, for example, could be served by the proposed bus service.

As part of a feasibility study, ACE will look into funding aspects and other issues.

When speaking to Pulman's View, Mr Moulding stressed that ACE does not wish its project to conflict with the existing ring and ride service.

He also said that ACE will probably invite the seniors' forum to get involved once the feasibility study is complete.

NHS theatre open delay

NHS Devon says there will be a delay in the reopening of operating theatres at Axminster Hospital.

The hospital has undergone massive refurbishment and extension work.

But, in a letter to Axminster Town Council, NHS Devon said there would be a delay in the reopening of operating theatres.

The letter was listed on December's town council agenda, but not discussed.

When asked for further details by Pulman's View, NHS Devon's health and social care manager for Axminster, William Flint, said: "The theatres at Axminster hospital are undergoing refurbishment."

"We expect them to be open and treating patients again in February."

"I'd like to thank staff from the theatres, who have been working in the hospital's swine flu clinics and theatres in nearby hospitals while the refurbishment took place, for being so flexible."

"I'd also like to thank Axminster Hospital League of Friends for their tremendous generosity in funding the refurbishment."

Fuel stolen

APPROXIMATELY £350 worth of heating oil has been stolen from a tank belonging to commercial premises in Kilminster.

The theft took place at some point between late November and December 15th.

Anyone with information is asked to call 08452 777 444 and ask for Axminster police, quoting crime reference KA/09/651.

Tools stolen from vehicle

POWER tools have been stolen from a van in Axminster.

Someone drilled a hole in a door lock and removed tools including a Bosch hammerdrill and a Hitachi power drill.

All the tools had the initials DES burnt on the handles and cases.

The theft took place at some point between 10am and 2pm on Tuesday, December 15th.

The van was either parked in Beaver Lane or the car park at the old cattle market when the theft happened.

Anyone with information is asked to call 08452 777 444 and ask for Axminster police. The crime reference number is KA/09/650.

Wallet taken

POLICE are urging people not to leave wallets and other valuables in their cars.

Someone broke into a car parked in Fairfield Close, Axminster, and stole a wallet overnight between December 9th and 10th.

Anyone who may have spotted something suspicious is asked to call 08452 777 444 and ask for Axminster police. The crime reference number is KA/09/636.

Leak of fuel

A CAR leaked petrol in West Street, Axminster, after its tank ruptured.

Firefighters were called to clean up the spill just before 3.40pm on Saturday, December 19th.

A fire and rescue service spokesperson said a piece of metal had come into contact with the underside of the car, rupturing the tank.

No support for dog mess idea

BY ANDERS LARSSON
anders@tindlenews.co.uk

AN Axminster town councillor failed to win any support for a proposal to get rid of dog bins in the district.

Councillor Jeremy Walden mooted the idea as a way for East Devon District Council (EDDC) to save money.

EDDC has announced it will have to make savings, and has invited town and parish councils to come up with ideas.

Axminster town councillors

◆ AXMINSTER Lions Club took its Father Christmas sleigh to meet the pupils at Mrs Ethelston's Primary School in Uplyme and each of them was given some sweets by Santa discussed the matter during the authority's December meeting.

Councillor Walden suggested that EDDC should remove its dog bins, saying: "They cost an inordinate amount of money."

He presented two alternatives for dog owners should the bins be removed.

The first one was to double wrap the dog mess and dispose of it in ordinary litter bins.

The second option was to use a compostable bag and deposit the mess with food waste, which is collected weekly from homes by EDDC.

But councillor Walden's proposal for EDDC to remove dog bins failed at the first hurdle as no fellow councillor came forward as a seconder.

Ways for EDDC to save money are expected to be discussed again by the town council in January.

Cuts will have to be made, and it is a possibility that park maintenance, street cleaning, and the keeping of flower beds, for example, will be affected one way or another.

The town council may invite organisations and clubs for talks to see if they would like to become involved with the keeping of flower beds should EDDC decide to cut or cease its budget for these.

Councillor finally gets NHS meeting

AN Ottery St Mary town councillor has finally met face-to-face with NHS Devon representatives after several months of email contact.

Roger Giles and Sally Slade, managing director of NHS Devon's health and social delivery directorate, which runs Ottery St Mary Hospital, held a meeting on Friday, December 18th, to discuss the NHS winter plan and how it would affect Ottery hospital.

As previously reported in this newspaper, Mr Giles expressed his concern over the temporary closure of seven beds at the hospital.

He said that it was "vitaly important" that the hospital was fully available for use by local people over the winter months. Mr Giles said he was also concerned about the financial impact the plan could have on patients and their family members, who would have to travel further afield to receive treatment.

Mr Giles had been in email contact with the NHS since the end of October but had so far not received the answers he required.

During last Friday's meeting the two parties discussed the NHS plan.

Mrs Slade said the meeting was constructive and agreed to provide Mr Giles with further information if it was requested.

She said: "We had a constructive meeting with councillor Giles."

"Cllr Giles originally posed more than 20 questions to us regarding the local NHS winter plan and Ottery St Mary Hospital. While we answered these, we felt that the several subsequent questions the councillor posed warranted a face-to-face meeting."

"During the meeting, we addressed these and agreed to supply further documentation he has asked for."

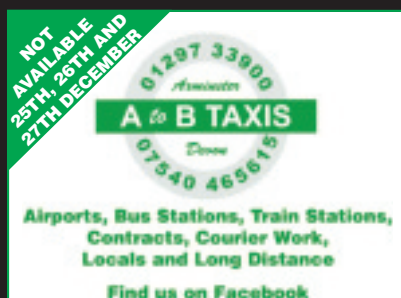

"We will continue to respond to Cllr Giles' requests for information."

EDDC leader slams decision

BY BEN MIDDLETON
ben@tindlenews.co.uk

THE leader of East Devon District Council (EDDC) has slammed a decision by the Boundary Committee to recommend a single unitary council for Devon.

The Boundary committee announced their decision last week and this has angered district council representatives.

Sara Randall Johnson, the leader of EDDC, said: "The only thing more surprising than the ridiculous single Devon unitary proposal is the period of time that the public will have to comment — six weeks, to include the distraction of Christmas and New Year holidays.

"We have argued all along that a massive council covering all the disparate parts of Devon, an area four times the size of greater London, would be unwieldy and undemocratic.

"Despite the latest court judgement, in favour of the Boundary Committee, earlier judgements have censured the Boundary Committee for its poorly constructed consultation process — Now the secretary of state is compounding this by allowing the public and councils just 24 working days to respond.

"This shows the arrogance of this government knows no bounds. Throughout this process they have shown contempt for the views of the many thousands of Devon residents who oppose the proposal."

Mrs Randall Johnson also claims that if the proposal is accepted, Devon will have the worst level of democratic representation in the country with only 100 elected councillors representing 740,000 people.

She also said that the figures used to calculate the amount of money that could be saved by having one single authority were out of date.

"It has been estimated that the single Devon council proposal can save £28million after transitional costs of £74million are met during year four. From year five, the year-on-year savings are assumed to be around £19million each year," she said.

"Those figures are based on 2007 estimates, which are way out of date now.

"Good local councils working together is the key to success and I would hope that the minister — who has the final say on this, will think again before adopting this stupid scheme.

"We will be taking legal advice consulting with our partner authorities on what steps we may be able to take in opposing this absurd idea."

Drivers warned about ice

MOTORISTS across east Devon are being asked to take care when travelling on minor roads because of the icy conditions.

Devon and Cornwall Police say they have had to deal with a large number of collisions caused by the freezing temperatures.

A spokesman for the force said: "Icy conditions on minor roads has led to an increase in collisions throughout the day across the region. The police has received in excess of 40 reports of vehicle collisions in one day due to the icy conditions.

"Whilst most major roads are not affected, many minor and side roads remain icy throughout the day. With temperatures likely to drop below freezing overnight police are advising motorists to take extreme care on untreated roads, allow extra time and consider if their journey is absolutely necessary."

Police urge motorists to check lights

POLICE forces across east Devon are urging motorists to make sure their vehicles are ready for winter.

Drivers are also being reminded that they should ensure that all the lights on their vehicles are in full working order.

A spokesman for the force said: "The inclement weather we have endured over the last month or so also means that fully functional vehicle lighting is required even during daylight hours.

"Furthermore, it is a statutory requirement under the Road Vehicles Lighting Regulations 1989 to ensure that all obligatory lamps are in working order. Please do not let defective lights contribute to an unnecessary accident."

Farmer helps stranded car

A MOTORIST travelling through Stockland, near Honiton, on Sunday, December 20th, was left stranded after their car was unable to travel up a hill because of the icy conditions.

Firefighters from Axminster were called to the scene at just before 3pm.

The fire engine also struggled because of the ice and the crew had to attend the incident on foot.

A local farmer with a 4x4 took the motorist and passengers to safety and also moved the vehicle to safety.

Environment change at the Glen thanks to youth team

HONITON Town Council has announced that it will be working with youngsters taking part in an Entry to Employment programme as part of its volunteer scheme at the Glen.

The youngsters involved in the programme are aged between 16 and 17 and will undertake tasks that will help them gain a qualification.

At the Glen young people from Honiton and Exmouth will be working on the regeneration scheme, carrying out tasks to improve the environment of the Glen.

They will also host a fashion show at Honiton Motel on Tuesday, January 19th, in aid of the Hospice Charity.

Tickets for the show cost £5 and are available from the hotel or the Hospice Shop in Honiton High Street.

College gets new funding

HONITON Community College has succeeded in gaining funding for a new laptop and mobile phone dongle that will allow students to access the internet on the move.

Students in year 12 will have access to the equipment and are encouraged to use it in college lessons and whilst studying at home.

Andrew Holt, assistant principal at the college, said: "The college will be reviewing this initiative in the near future to see the impact on the students' education."

Nephew inspires man to take on challenge

BY BEN MIDDLETON
ben@tindlenews.co.uk

THE manager of Honiton Swimming and Leisure Centre has taken part in the challenge of a lifetime in aid of charity.

Simon Davey recently completed a two week trek to Everest base camp to raise money for CLIC Sargent — the charity that helped his young nephew, Anthony McSherry, through a serious illness.

Mr Davey says he had to complete a gruelling fitness regime to get him in peak physical condition for the trip.

His training included playing football, gym work and walking on Dartmoor.

He said: "It was the most incredible experience but such hard work.

"It was around 70 miles in total and when you take into account the extreme conditions and altitude it seemed like triple that. However, I felt in good shape and the scenery was amazing so made it all worthwhile.

"CLIC Sargent were of such support to Anthony and his whole family when he was ill so it's a charity very close to my heart."

Having set an initial fundraising target of £3,500, Mr Davey says he is now well on the way to reaching the £5,000 mark.

Donations are still being accepted at www.justgiving.com/simondavey.

Concert is a big success

A CONCERT raised more than £3,000 for good causes and was labelled an "outstanding success" by organisers.

The Commando Training Centre Royal Marines Band played to a packed audience in Axminster's Guildhall on Friday, December 4th, in a concert organised by The Rotary Club of Axminster.

Rotarian John Hewson said: "The evening was a resounding success, enjoyed by all.

"The concert was in aid of Help for Heroes and The Royal British Legion, who will equally share the proceeds from the event."

Sign stolen

AN oval and gold-painted sign was removed and taken away from Hookhill Farm, Membury, on December 3rd or 4th.

In the editor's shoes

Balancing act for us

AS a journalist, you are taught from the very start of your career the importance of balance and fairness and how, when you produce copy for newspaper publication, a slant or 'angle' of a story can give a different perception to the reader.

I am very proud, therefore, that Pulman's View is one of the most balanced newspapers I have worked at and, as editor, it is I who would carry the can if it were not.

This newspaper series across east Devon is made up of five community newspapers, which the chairman of parent company Tindle Newspapers Ltd, Sir Ray Tindle, calls 'parish pump'.

He means each is the core information provider of very local news that very local people want to read.

This means that our aims and objective, perhaps, differ somewhat to those who work on, say, a tabloid national paper.

Our office is in the centre of Axminster town, between our small, close-knit editorial team, we know well many of the people we deal with — and are likely to bump into them in a local shop or pub — so gathering, collating and producing news stories is our only agenda and making it fair and balanced is a very high priority.

We have recently introduced a new policy on our letters pages that we will only publish letters that we have received with full names, address and telephone numbers — this is for legal reasons... as well as enabling us to contact those who are lucky enough to win the Star Letter prize which is kindly provided each week by Archway Bookshop of Axminster.

The letters pages are for the readers, giving you a platform to air your views on local matters. We publish virtually all local letters sent in (unless they are libellous!) and are proud of the high standard of balance these letters show.

However, we cannot publish anything anonymous or without the correct details as mentioned so please, if you are going to take part in a local debate through our pages — and I urge you to use it — please ensure your details are included. We can still keep these from publication if specified as long as we have them for our records.

■ Well, Christmas is nearly here, odds are good for a white one and I've been good this year (I think) so things are looking bright.

Due to the timing of the festive holiday though, please bear a thought for those of us who have to work over Christmas (I'm looking for some sympathy here please). Because of this, our 'unofficial works do' has been cancelled for 2009 as there just isn't the time for it. We usually huddle up in the office with some booze and festive food and drink our way through an emotional rollercoaster of songs (many of which originate from the 1980s) which we find on the internet and play ... amongst other things.

However, we did enjoy a very tasty Christmas meal at the 'official works do' on Thursday evening at The Old Inn at Kilminster. We were looked after by Duncan Colvin and his team and the food was delicious.

On that note, I'd like to wish you and your families a very merry Christmas. Enjoy.

THE BEST FOR QUALITY AND VALUE IN THE SOUTH WEST

We wonder where else we can go

EDITOR — In reply to Mrs Dawson's letter, Pulman's View (December 8th), about the police chastising children for skateboarding on the road these letters make me very angry.

Being a boy of 12 and a very keen skater it hurts when people say: "Don't skate in the road go somewhere else." Then we think, well where are we going to go?

The skatepark has holes in every ramp. The MGB train track fitters have driven vans over the half-pipe and cracked it. They have walked over ramps with muddy boots and the mud gets thrown onto our shoes and skateboards. So where shall we go?

I don't know how old you are, Mrs Dawson, but the modern day society has changed for the worse with big housing estates flying up all around.

Obviously, children are going to play in the road, that's what every child does and they will fall over, break bones, because that's what we do so you can't say we blame everyone else because we don't! So if you have a problem with today's youth growing up, I think we could all say you are selfish.

Our issues are with nameless neighbours — not the police

EDITOR — Quite rightly your article has prompted a lot of comments being made in response to the police being called to deal with children skateboarding.

As parents, our issues are not with the police as such but more the approach made by 'nameless' neighbours who chose to take a heavy-handed approach to the situation.

As responsible parents, we would have much preferred a neighbourly chat and could easily have resolved the matter in hand.

As it is, the children were left very frightened, given that their ages ranged from 5 years to 10 years, with one or two reduced to tears.

We are very fortunate to live in a very low crime area and to have a dedicated and responsive police team but on this occasion we do wonder why it was necessary to take up their time over an incident that involved such young children, who were playing outside, on a rare dry day, for 15 minutes before school.

The skateboard park which has been suggested as a more suitable play location has been closed for some time now.

When open it was frequented by much older children, often drinking or smoking, and was left in a sorry state.

Perhaps the anger of the residents should be directed towards Wainhomes, who, as developers of a new residential estate, anticipated that there would be a number of families with children moving in.

With this in mind, a number of families made a substantial financial contribution to Wainhomes towards a play area which was ear-marked in the original development.

Three years down the line and after several attempts to get action from Wainhomes, there is still not a play area — maybe a breach of the original planning application?

Whilst we are not excusing the fact that the children were skateboarding we feel that we must address why the action taken prompted us to react with such anger and dismay.

The children concerned are well behaved and respected by a number of our neighbours who have spoken to us in support.

The same children, we may add, who recently delighted so many visitors to the Guildhall with their joyous Christmas Carols — not typical behaviour of 'modern day do as they like families'.

Sincere gratitude for music evening

EDITOR — On behalf of the Axminster and District Choral Society may I please, through the medium of your newspaper, thank all those people who contributed to the outstanding success of A Baroque Christmas held at the Minster recently.

Few people will know that the cost of presenting an evening of this calibre is well in excess of £3,000.

So it is with sincere gratitude that we thank our sponsors, patrons and friends, members of the society and the enthusiastic audience for supporting us.

The church was full to capacity to hear some of Monteverdi's Vespers, Vivaldi's Gloria and the first part of Handel's Messiah.

We were most wonderfully accompanied by the outstanding instrumentalists of Orchestra West, leader Barry Haskey, under the baton of Dr Francis Burroughes.

The society promotes the talents of young soloists from The Guildhall School of Music and their choice of Charlotte Beament soprano; Hanna Hip soprano; Olivia Barry contralto; Paul Curievici tenor and Matthew Stiff bass added more than a sparkle to the evening's performance, which was a resounding success.

The society resumes rehearsals on January 12th at 7.30pm in the Minster. All voices are welcome, especially sopranos. We will be preparing for our spring concert, Dvorak's Stabat Mater and Vaughn Williams' Five Mystical Songs.

Police work

EDITOR — Regarding the letter from a reader, Pulman's View (December 15th), about the young lad who was asked politely by police to stop skateboarding on a pavement followed by the mother complaining about the policeman doing his job.

If these children were brought up with manners and respect for others this incident would not have happened.

We employ the police to protect the community and everybody in it. So that mother should be grateful that the lad was corrected in the good old-fashioned way of policing. If the boy was crying it is because he had been found out and felt guilty.

Some parents need to stop moaning about the police and learn how to look after their children properly and know where they are and what they are doing not just let them run riot in the town. It is good to see policemen and women on the beat again.

To the mother, you wanted a child so look after him properly and make sure he behaves himself, you are the parent not the policeman. Well done to the police officer, good job.

Lions thanks

EDITOR — Please may I through your paper say a big thank you to the Lions? As a first timer at their pensioners' lunch I was very impressed. I have spent a lifetime in catering and have always been a bit iffy about dining out in any form.

I need not have worried, held at the Colford Memorial Hall, the tables were beautifully dressed, the welcome was warm and friendly, the meal started on time and was superb, the entertainment was brilliant followed by a few dedications and finally the cyclamen on the tables were given away if you had a star at your place setting. So, to all who organised, planned and finally executed this lovely afternoon especially the kitchen many thanks and congratulations for a job very well done.

Primary kids produce a newspaper

PRIMARY pupils from schools in Shute, Seaton, Chardstock, Hawkchurch, Membury and Musbury took part in a newsday challenge at Axe Valley Community College.

Axe Valley's primary enterprise co-ordinator, Bridget Bennett, explained: "The aim of the day was to produce a newspaper about life at the college.

"In the morning they learned interview techniques. Then we had a mock press interview session where they were able to use these skills to interview our Christmas card winners and our head of music, Mr Jevons, about how he organises our annual carol concert.

"They then used their notes and photos to compile their newspapers and returned to their schools armed with numerous useful enterprising and creative skills."

The challenge was staged on Monday, December 7th.

Aloe vera lesson

IN November the speaker for Thorncombe WI, Ann Orchard, was unwell so the group was pleased to welcome Lesley Bowick in her place.

Lesley chose to speak about aloe vera and its properties. Over 300 varieties of this species of plant produce a multitude of different healing uses from extracts to drink and salves to apply. Members tasted and tested the various products and were interested in the variety of complaints they could alleviate.

Reports were given on various functions attended and members chose from the menu for the Christmas dinner at the Lordleaze Hotel.

The next meeting, on January 12th, will be a members' afternoon. The group will meet at 1pm for a ploughman's lunch followed by a beetle drive.

The competition for a handmade Christmas card was won by Mary Turner and Julie Honeybourne won flower of the month.

WI celebrates 80 years

FENITON and Buckerell Women's Institute is 80 years old.

The group has been meeting in Feniton Village Hall since 1929 and to celebrate the landmark birthday a special meeting was held in the village hall on Wednesday, December 2nd.

After beginning the evening with Jerusalem, the business was dealt with briefly by the new president, Marguerite Coker.

Members were all then entertained by Kate Fincham-Powell, who used poetry and song to tell us about Christmas in days gone by before tucking into a delicious supper. The birthday cake, made and beautifully decorated by Maggie Pipe, was cut and a birthday toast took place.

A slide show of country's fine gardens

AT the most recent meeting of Phoenix Ladies, the group enjoyed delicious sandwiches and cakes made by Lesley Frankau and helpers.

At the start of the meeting letters of thanks were read out while baskets of fruit or plant arrangements were given to the chairman, secretary and treasurer and others who had helped throughout the year.

The speaker was David Baldock who told members that all his fees go to charities. So far a staggering £10,500 has gone to Shelterbox, the Children's Hospice and other good causes.

His slides encompassed many of the country's finest gardens beginning with the Saville bog gardens, near Windsor Castle, with flowers so vivid you could almost smell them.

Exbury's Rothschild Gardens had a profusion of co-ordinated borders framed by striking acers and trees which provided spectacular reflections in the lake. Kew in springtime was a beautiful array of daffodils. Stowe an assortment of follies. Some of the floral displays even incorporated complicated self-watering systems a boon for gardeners everywhere.

There is always plenty to see and learn at Wisley with its numerous demonstration gardens and vegetable plots. The group was even shown how the annual borders were marked out and then the grown plants, a riot of colour.

At Sissinghurst, the many formal and cottage gardens were a delight and who could fail to be impressed by the magnificent tints of Westonbirt Arboretum or Rosemoor in winter? Every slide brought a breath of colour to a cold winter's day and couldn't help but lift everyone's spirits.

The next meeting, on January 13th, will be the 10th anniversary of Phoenix Ladies. There will be a talk by the RNLI.

Quality music at monthly folk meet

JURASSIC Folk club members do not know who is coming to the meetings each month and we have no idea what sort of balance of performers will turn up, or indeed if anybody at all will arrive at the Grove, Seaton.

Yet it always seems to end up being a great night, according to visitors. November was no exception and, although there were fewer artists in number than the last two months, they more than made it up in quality.

The usual mixture of pathos, humour and good music figured in the performances of the regulars, Frances Lee, Rob Wheaton, Ted Dowse, while Peter Arnold enlisted the assistance of Anita Cotterall to extract the maximum from a ballad.

And a new face was welcomed, Kay Clive-Francis, who sang to her guitar in great style.

country scene

Written by countryside correspondent

TONY JACKSON

Wildlife around despite the cold

THE sun may be gleaming, lighting up the countryside, but as I write this column, it is bitterly cold. Snow is forecast and the wind is bearing down, straight from the Arctic.

Little surprise then that the field in front of my office window is alive with constantly moving flocks of redwings, winter visitors from the northern Palaearctic regions, while mingling with them are several mistlethrushes and starlings.

Most intriguing of all, however, was to spot, a few days ago, a small mouse-like bird climbing the trunk of my apple tree in short jerky movements as it searched every bark crevice for insects. A tree-creeper, a little bird now rarely seen, its distinctive curved beak, stiff tail and brown and white colouring is unmistakable. It is possible, of course, that tree-creepers are more abundant than one might suppose, for they are usually highly secretive. My sighting in the garden was quite unusual and encouraging.

The cold weather in the east and north has also driven woodcock to the usually milder south-west region and I have had reports of several seen in recent days. If the ground remains frozen then they will continue to move westwards, even to Ireland, in search of soft ground where they can find their staple diet, worms.

The latest bird reports from David Walters, covering the Axe estuary, notes the sighting of a black-necked grebe off Seaton, a rarely spotted winter migrant, while two black swans have joined the two whooper swans in the estuary. Where on earth have they come from? Meanwhile, a reminder to feed garden birds in this bitter weather. Many birds now rely almost entirely on man's generosity and it is vital to provide seed and fatty foods in icy weather. Also don't forget water in bird baths.

The recent storms have brought some odd visitors to Dorset's beaches, including six rare types of goose barnacle. These creatures normally drift around the warm oceans attached to floating debris, such as seaweed, driftwood or even plastic bottles.

A grey phalarope, a wader, was also spotted feeding on bugs just below the water surface, not far from the Dorset Wildlife Trust's Fine Foundation Marine Centre. This small bird is circumpolar, for it breeds in the Arctic but then migrates to the southern hemisphere. The one seen off our coast must have been blown here by the storms. A number of puffins and petrels, birds which normally feed well out to sea, have also been washed up dead, battered by the winds and unable to feed.

The aftermath of the stormy weather is, in fact, an ideal time for beach-combing and, as Julie Hatcher, a Marine Officer with the DWT, points out, one never knows just what strange creatures may be washed up among the strandline. If you do discover a strange bird, fish, mollusc or whatever, take a photo and send it to the DWT for recording.

Any marine sightings of interest should be despatched to kimmeridge@dorsetwildlifetrust.org.uk or ring 01929 481044.

Meanwhile, may I wish all my readers a most jolly Christmas and, of course, a happy new year. Old traditions still maintain the festival spirit, and not least will be the Boxing Day meets of hounds. The Cotley Harriers will be foregathering in Chard and the Seavington Foxhounds will meet in the centre of Crewkerne, both at 11am.

Last year well over 2,000 folk turned out to welcome the Seavington and I have little doubt that the Victoria Square in Crewkerne will once again be packed for this traditional occasion.

It seems scarcely possible that another year has sped by, and let us hope that 2010 brings some peace and hope to a suffering world. We all deserve it.

With Nigel Speller

EVERYONE is now busy with the run-up to Christmas — crowds in many of the shops, full car parks, Christmas cards dropping through the letterbox, Christmas productions and concerts in the schools, festive lights and house decorations, trees, carols playing in the shops and precincts, endless lists and preparation.

Most of us get caught up in the bustle of Christmas, but what are we actually preparing for? Will Christmas 2009 be simply another round of parties and jollity, a break from routine and work? Or can we look beyond the commercial Christmas to be touched by the enormity of a child being born in Bethlehem 2000 years ago? God sent His Son into the world so that we might have new life and new hope; the gift of love.

Our local towns and villages are often criticised for failing to portray the Christmas message. For many people every year our town-centre Christmas decorations and events seem further removed from those world-changing events in Bethlehem long ago. It is therefore good news to report that this year there is a film on circuit in local cinemas having the birth of Christ at the heart of it.

Created by Catholic film director Debbie Isitt, Nativity! (U Certificate) is a family comedy that centres around two English primary schools (one state, one private) vying to stage the best Christmas nativity play in town. It gently explores themes of redemption, reconciliation and the deeper meaning of the season — without ever being preachy!

It is now good to be able to report two visits to east Devon in the same month by the Bishop of Exeter. Early in December he came to Ottery St Mary to celebrate at a candlelit service the 750th anniversary of Ottery St Mary Parish Church. The original church was dedicated in 1259 by Bishop Walter Brunescombe.

This December's occasion was also used to launch Brunescombe Beer which is brewed by O' Hanlon's Brewery in Whimple.

Last Sunday morning the Bishop of Exeter was further east in our territory at Uplyme church where, in the presence of a large congregation, he welcomed and licensed the Reverend Gavin Tyte. Gavin will look after the people and churches of the parishes of Uplyme and Axmouth, and with his family will live at Uplyme rectory. After the service there was a reception at Uplyme Village Hall.

As we have noted before, the Axminster parishes hope to be next in line for their vacancy to be filled.

The Colyton Benefice, covering churches there and at Colyford, at Branscombe, Musbury and Southleigh, have just started on their work of preparing for the search for a new rector to succeed the Revd Nicholas Edwards who leaves in February to take over the churches of West Exe in the City of Exeter. As part of the preparations each parish has to elect two representatives from their church councils who take part in the selection procedure and appointment process.

Before we finally leave the pre-Christmas season, it is of interest to Anglican churchgoers that the readings and collects for the advent season before Christmas provided in their new common worship lectionary are no longer linked with the foretelling or proclamation of Jesus, as recorded by the patriarchs and prophets in the Old Testament or the words of John the Baptist and Mary Mother of Jesus. It has also been noted that the traditional advent wreath of purple, rose and white candles does not seem to represent the new themes of the lectionary and prayer book. Perhaps we have 12 months to provide an answer?

Looking ahead to the new year it is traditional for the main stream churches to observe a Week of Prayer for Christian Unity in the Epiphany season. In the coming year this begins on January 18th. Like our previous thoughts on the advent season, there is again comment about some of the material for this week does not easily fit into the Anglican Common Worship Daily Prayer book. The suggestion is that the new material is imaginative but may not be easily followed in gatherings of different denominations, and so it may not cross the barrier of the underlying theme of doing things together in unity. Only time will tell!

There are likely to be joint services in the churches of east Devon so do look out for posters and other information in the early days of January. For those who wish to see the material for themselves the booklet is titled You are Witness; Week of Prayer for Christian Unity 2010; copies can be obtained from Norwich Books and Music at 01603 612914 extension 1, price £1 or downloaded for free online from www.ctbi.org.uk/weekofprayer.

For all Christmas church services please refer to posters and leaflets which are available at all churches.

Carols in Seaton ~ December 24th

AWAY IN A MANGER

Away in a manger, no crib for a bed,

The little Lord Jesus laid down His sweet head;
The stars in the bright sky looked down where He lay;

The little Lord Jesus asleep on the hay.

The cattle are lowing, the baby awakes,

But little Lord Jesus, no crying He makes:

I love you, Lord Jesus! Look down from the sky

And stay by my side until morning is nigh.

Be near me, Lord Jesus: I ask you to stay

Close by me forever and love me, I pray;

Bless all the dear children in your tender care,

And fit us for heaven to live with you there.

HARK! THE HERALD ANGELS SING

Hark! The herald angels sing: 'Glory to the newborn King!

'Peace on earth, and mercy mild, God and sinners reconciled!'

Joyful, all ye nations rise, Join the triumph of the skies,

With the angelic host proclaim, 'Christ is born in Bethlehem.'

Hark! the herald angels sing: 'Glory to the newborn King!'

Christ, by highest heaven adored, Christ, the everlasting Lord,

Late in time behold Him come, offspring of a virgin's womb.

Veiled in flesh the Godhead see! Hail the incarnate deity!

Pleased as man with man to dwell, Jesus, our Immanuel.

Hark! the herald angels sing: 'Glory to the newborn King.'

Hail the heaven-born Prince of Peace! Hail, the Sun of righteousness!

Light and life to all He brings, risen with healing in His wings,

Mild, He lays His glory by; born that men no more may die;

Born to raise the sons of earth Born to give them second birth.

Hark! the herald angels sing: 'Glory to the newborn King.'

Angels and archangels

May have gathered there Cherubim and seraphim

Thronged the air; But His mother only

In her maiden bliss Worshipped the Beloved With a kiss.

What can I give Him, Poor as I am?

If I were a shepherd, I would bring a lamb.

If I were a wise man, I would do my part.

Yet what I can I give Him — give my heart.

O COME ALL YE FAITHFUL

O come all ye faithful Joyful and triumphant,

O come ye, o come ye to Bethlehem.

Come and behold Him, born the King of angels;

O come let us adore Him,

O come let us adore Him,

lie!

Above thy deep and dreamless sleep The silent stars go by.

Yet in thy dark streets shineth The everlasting Light;

The hopes and fears of all the years Are met in thee tonight.

O morning stars, together Proclaim the holy birth,

And praises sing to God the King, And peace to men on earth;

For Christ is born of Mary, And gathered all above,

While mortals sleep, the angels keep Their watch of wondering love.

How silently, how silently The wondrous gift is given!

So God imparts to human hearts The blessings of His heaven.

No ear may hear His coming; But in this world of sin,

Where meek souls will receive Him, still The dear Christ enters in.

O holy Child of Bethlehem, Descend to us, we pray;

Cast out our sin, and enter in; Be born in us today.

We hear the Christmas angels The great glad tidings tell;

O come to us, abide with us, Our Lord Immanuel!

O come to us, abide with us, Our Lord Immanuel!

Wow! What a year we have had at McKinlays

The year started with so much uncertainty with the housing market in chaos, but it has slowly been recovering, with growing confidence in the market throughout the year. The majority of the houses on our books have been selling quickly, with an abundance of buyers waiting to snap up their perfect property.

We are a small family run business but with a big welcome to all of our customers. We pride ourselves on the customer care we offer, which is validated by over 50% of our business coming from recommendation.

"You are worth your weight in gold and we will not hesitate to recommend you in the future."

Our "efficient, friendly and helpful" service is particularly appreciated by those who are perhaps downsizing after many years in their family home and by first time buyers who have not experienced the buying process.

In addition to selling houses, we are also very good at raising money! This year we have raised an incredible £10,000 for Hospiscare in Axminster, thanks to the overwhelming support at all of our events. Local businesses have been very supportive with substantial donations from Beviss and Beckingsale and Axe Skip Hire. More recently Scott Rowe has helped us with a Christmas draw where the top prize of a luxury hamper from Millers Farm Shop won by Lillian Tucker.

Our largest fund raiser was "One Night Only" and what a night it was! I finally got to see a DVD of the show about 2 weeks ago and now I can see why everybody had such a fantastic evening. I would like to thank everyone involved for all their time, effort and support at this event. We have presented a cheque to Hospiscare for £6,000 from the proceeds of One Night Only, which is amazing. The total is still rising thanks to donations and from DVD sales, which are still available from the office along with brochures of the evening. Also photos of the event can still be viewed and purchased on our website www.4onenightonly.com.

We are pleased to report that Hospiscare will be our charity of the year for 2010 as well. We have several ideas to help raise money for this fantastic charity so please keep an eye on the shop window and on the website.

So if you are looking to sell your house in the New Year, please give us a call on 01297 631199 or call into the office and have a cup of tea or coffee and discuss our competitive and friendly no-pressure service. Alternatively, if you are thinking of buying pop in for a chat, where again we offer a no-pressure "only selling houses" service. Or if you are looking to let a property or have a property to let, visit Harris Lets which is based in the same office.

Wishing you all a Happy Christmas and a Prosperous New Year.

Festive View... from the armchair!

IT'S THAT time of the year when everyone starts asking themselves why they bother to pay for their TV Licence and claim - quite possibly through the use of rose tinted glasses - that Christmas telly just ain't what it used to be.

But before you reach for the stand-by button on that remote control and embrace the company of family and friends rather than staying glued to the goggle box this Christmas, just take a look at the Festive View's top picks of the festive season.

GOODBYE, DAVID

THE event on BBC1 this Christmas is undoubtedly David Tennant's swansong as the Tenth Doctor. The climax to his tenure has been building up nicely through a number of special one-off episodes since the latest series of Doctor Who concluded last year.

The plot itself is seemingly under wraps but we do know that John Simm returns as The Master, as does The Doctor's old companion, Donna (Catherine Tate), along with her grandfather (the ever reliable Bernard Cribbins).

Who fans can catch the first part of 'The End of Time' on Christmas Day at 6pm, with the second and final part going out on New Year's Day at 6:40pm.

In fact, David Tennant seems to be overtaking the Beeb this Christmas. You can catch him in a special Christmas edition of QI on Christmas Eve (BBC1, 10pm) and on Boxing Day in the leading role of the Royal Shakespeare Company's celebrated production of Hamlet (BBC2, 5:05pm).

JUST FOR LAUGHS

LONG gone are the days when you could always look forward to Christmas with the Trotters, and the Beeb has struggled to find a replacement for Only Fools and Horses in the comedy department.

Although not a Christmas special as such, this year the focus is on Gavin and Stacey. Rumour has it this third season - which concludes over the festive period - will be the last.

You can catch the final two episodes on Christmas Day (BBC1, 10pm) and New Year's Day (BBC1, 9pm) respectively.

Another modern favourite is Outnumbered, starring Hugh Dennis and Claire Skinner alongside three remarkably good child actors. If you've never caught it before, the Christmas Special (December 27th, BBC1, 10:30pm) will be a good place to start.

Personally, when it comes to Christmas comedy, I'm looking forward to Victoria Wood's long overdue return to our screens.

Victoria Wood's Midlife Christmas (Christmas Eve, BBC1, 9pm) sees her spoof the likes of Lark Rise To Candleford and Cranford in 'Lark Pies To Cranchesterford', and take off Alan Sugar's sidekick Margaret Mountford in a send-up of The Apprentice.

And 'Acorn Antiques' fans won't want to miss Julie Walters as Bo Beaumont, the self-important actress who played Mrs Overall in the wonderful soap opera parody.

Catherine Tate has become a Christmas staple in more recent years. Her take - or rather her character Nan's take - on Charles Dickens' A Christmas Carol is broadcast Christmas Day (BBC1, 10:30pm).

Her Doctor Who co-star David Tennant (not him, again!!!) is among those making guest appearances.

Of course, Christmas wouldn't be Christmas without Morecambe and Wise. We all moan when the Beeb drag out the repeats but we still watch them.

You can catch Eric and Ernie's 1973 Christmas Special - again - on Boxing Day (BBC2, 9:10pm).

And you can also watch Ant and Dec trying to emulate the duo with their own Christmas show earlier the same evening (ITV1, 7:30pm).

DRAMA

AS FOR drama, well, if you can watch it with a straight face having seen Victoria Wood's send-up, the second of a two-part festive special of Cranford is on December 27th (BBC1, 9pm). Judi Dench, Imelda Staunton and Jonathan Pryce star.

ITV serves up the long overdue sequel to the ground-breaking The Naked Civil Servant on Christmas Bank Holiday Monday.

John Hurt returns as Quentin Crisp in An Englishman In New York (ITV1, 9pm). Sex and the City's Cynthia Nixon co-stars in this one-off play, picking up from where the original 1975 production left off.

David Suchet is back as Agatha Christie's Hercule Poirot on Christmas Day (ITV1, 9pm) in 'Appointment With Death'. Remarkably, Suchet has only ten more Poirot stories to film, having now made 61 with ITV since 1989!

CLASSIC CHRISTMAS

WHAT I look forward to the most at Christmas is the BBC's ghost story offering.

This tradition, which has recently been revived, goes back to the 1970s; each year a different tale - usually adapted from one of M.R. James' short stories - would terrify audiences and act as the perfect antidote to seasonal over-indulgences.

Last year we had Mark Gatiss' frankly brilliant Crooked House; 2009 brings us a more traditional offering in an adaptation of The Turn Of The Screw (December 30th, BBC1, 9pm).

Starring Michelle Dockery, this chilling story is set in a remote country house, where a governess is spooked by the apparitions of two children.

FUN FOR ALL THE FAMILY

MY TOP choice for a show that can be enjoyed by all the family is The Gruffalo (Christmas Day, BBC1, 5:30pm).

This animated adaptation of the children's bestseller, which tells the story of a mouse's epic journey through a forest, features the voices of Robbie Coltrane, Helena Bonham Carter, Rob Brydon, Tom Wilkinson and John Hurt.

BEST OF THE REST

FOR the petrolheads amongst you, or those that simply love watching three grown men acting like schoolboys, there's another modern Christmas tradition on offer - the Top Gear Christmas Special.

This year Jeremy, Richard and James are off to Bolivia, with the challenge of driving some old bangers through the heart of the Amazon jungle to the coast of Chile. Find out how they got on by tuning in on December 27th (BBC2, 7:45pm).

Although the Beeb saw fit to scrap Top of the Pops a few years back, it's Christmas guise is still going strong.

In fact, BBC1 has two seasonal TOTP specials: one on Christmas Day (2pm) and another on New Year's Eve (6:30pm), both hosted by Fearne Cotton and Reggie Yates.

Sci-fi fans should make a date with the Beeb's updated take on John Wyndham's classic tale The Day of the Triffids, showing in two parts on Christmas Bank Holiday Monday and concluding on Tuesday 29th (both BBC1, 9pm).

CHRISTMAS TV PREVIEW with James Coles

FILMS

SINCE the advent of the DVD and satellite television, the big Christmas movie premiere hasn't had the same status. Chances are you've already seen it.

Even so, kids and adults alike may warm to Pixar favourite The Incredibles (Christmas Day, BBC1, 3:10pm) or, alternatively, Happy Feet (Christmas Day, ITV1, 3:40pm).

And whether you're a Johnny Depp lady or a Keira Knightley man, you'll find yourself at home with Pirates of the Caribbean: At World's End (Boxing Day, BBC1, 7:30pm). And this particular episode can boast Keith Richards as Captain Jack Sparrow's father!

MY CHOICE

MY NUMBER one choice for essential viewing this Christmas is the Orson Welles season on BBC4. If you're any sort of film buff, you'll love this series of programmes devoted to possibly the greatest innovator in the history of cinema.

Director, writer, actor, producer - Orson did it all, and was equally at home in film, theatre, TV and radio. Highlights of the season include actor and Welles biographer Simon Callow's exploration of Orson's time outside of Hollywood in Orson Welles Over Europe (December 27th, 9:30pm) and a re-run of Alan Yentob's extraordinary two-part 1982 Arena profile of the great man (Part 1: Christmas Day, 9pm; Part 2: December 27th, 11pm).

There are five classic Orson movies being screened too: Citizen Kane (Christmas Day, 7pm), Journey Into Fear (Christmas Day, 10:50pm), The Third Man (Boxing Day, 7:15pm), The Magnificent Ambersons (December 27th, 8pm) and The Stranger (December 27th, 11:55pm).

So, whether you're looking for something old or new, this year's Christmas telly really does have something for everyone.

Christmas Facts

- THE common abbreviation for Christmas to Xmas is derived from the Greek alphabet. X is letter Chi, which is the first letter of Christ's name in the Greek alphabet.
- OLIVER Cromwell, banned Christmas carols in England between 1649 and 1660. Cromwell thought that Christmas should be a very solemn day so he banned carols and parties. The only celebration was a sermon and a prayer service.
- THE Puritans in America tried to make Thanksgiving Day the most important annual festival instead of Christmas.
- SILENT Night was written in 1818, by an Austrian priest called Joseph Mohr. He was told the day before Christmas that the church organ was broken and would not be repaired in time for Christmas Eve. He was saddened by this and could not contemplate Christmas without music, so he wrote a carol that could be sung by choir to guitar music. He sat down and wrote three stanzas. Later that night the people in the little Austrian church sang "Stille Nacht" for the first time.
- ST Francis of Assisi introduced Christmas carols to formal church services.
- Telesphorus, the second Bishop of Rome (125-136 AD) declared that public church services should be held to celebrate 'The Nativity of our Lord and Saviour'. In 320 AD, Pope Julius I and other religious leaders specified December 25th as the official date of the birth of Jesus Christ.

- DECEMBER 26th was traditionally known as St Stephen's Day, but is more commonly known as Boxing Day. This expression came about because money was collected in alms-boxes placed in churches during the festive season. The money was then distributed to the poor and needy after Christmas.
- MELBOURNE, Australia has a sporting Boxing Day tradition. The Melbourne Cricket Ground hosts a Cricket test match. Sometimes this attracts 90,000 spectators. Cricket is Australia's premier Summer sport.
- THE first printed reference to Christmas trees appeared in Germany in 1531
- IN 1836, Alabama was the first state in the USA to declare Christmas a legal holiday.
- IN 1843, the first Christmas card was printed in England for Sir Henry Cole. He was a busy man who wanted to save time in his own Christmas letters, but was also interested in encouraging the expansion of the postal system. A thousand copies of the card were sold at one shilling each. It was not until the 1860s that the production of cards accelerated, with cheaper printing methods. Then in 1870, the Post Office introduced a half penny stamp for sending cards.
- AT midnight on Christmas Eve in 1914 firing from the German trenches during the First World War suddenly stopped. A German brass band began playing Christmas carols. Early, on Christmas morning, the German soldiers came out of their trenches, approaching the allied lines, calling "Merry Christmas". At first the allied soldiers thought it was a trick, but they soon climbed out of their trenches and shook hands with the German soldiers. The truce lasted a few days, and the men exchanged presents of cigarettes and plum puddings, sang carols and songs. They even played a game of soccer.

- IN 1937, the first postage stamp to commemorate Christmas was issued in Austria
- The actual gift givers are different in various countries:
 - Spain and South America: The Three Kings
 - Italy: La Befana (a kindly old witch)
 - England: Father Christmas
 - France: Pere Noel (Father Christmas)
 - Russia: In some parts - Babouschka (a grandmotherly figure); in other parts Grandfather Frost.
 - Germany: Christkind (angelic messenger from Jesus)
- She is a beautiful fair haired girl with a shining crown of candles.
- Scandinavia: a variety of Christmas gnomes. One is called Julenisse
- Holland: St Nicholas

- IN 1834, Queen Victoria's husband, Prince Albert brought the first Christmas tree to Windsor Castle for the Royal family.

- IN 1856, President Franklin Pierce decorates the first White House Christmas tree.

- IN 1907, Oklahoma became the last USA state to declare Christmas a legal holiday.

- Every year since 1947 the people in Oslo have given a Christmas tree to the city of Westminster. The gift is an expression of goodwill and gratitude for Britain's help to Norway in the 1939-1945 war.

- THE first American Christmas carol was written in 1649 by a minister named John de Brebeur and is called "Jesus is Born".

- MEXICANS call the poinsettia "Flower of the Holy Night" - the Holy Night is the Mexican way of saying Christmas Eve.

- TOM Smith who owned a sweet shop in London was the originator of the cracker. In the 1840s Tom found that people liked sugar almonds, but while he was in France he discovered a variety of sweets wrapped up in a twist of paper.

- These bonbons were popular, so Tom decided to copy them. When Tom noticed that young men were buying them to give to their sweethearts he began to place "love mottoes" on small slips of paper inside the sweet wrapping.

In 1846 Tom's thoughts turned towards Christmas - instead of sweets he thought he would place toys and novelties inside the twisted wrapping. He experimented with this and came up with the idea of producing a wrapping that could be pulled apart - the cracker as we know it today.

- THE word carol is derived from the old French word caroller which derives from the Latin choraula. This itself was derived from the Greek choraulas

- THE biggest selling Christmas single of all time is Bing Crosby's White Christmas.

- A GOOSE was customary Christmas fare until Henry VIII took it upon himself to tuck into a turkey. Mince pies were once shaped like mangers and are thought to date back to the sweetmeats formerly presented to the Vatican on Christmas Eve.

- HANGING the Christmas stocking on the hearth on Christmas Eve in the hope that it will be filled with presents the next morning is a custom that goes back about 400 years.

It derived from the custom in Holland of children placing wooden shoes next to the hearth the night before the arrival of St. Nicholas. The children would fill their shoes with straw and food for St Nicholas's for the donkey that carried the gifts. In exchange he would leave them a small gift such as small cakes, fruits and other gifts. Stockings were substituted for the shoes in Britain, most of Europe and in North America.

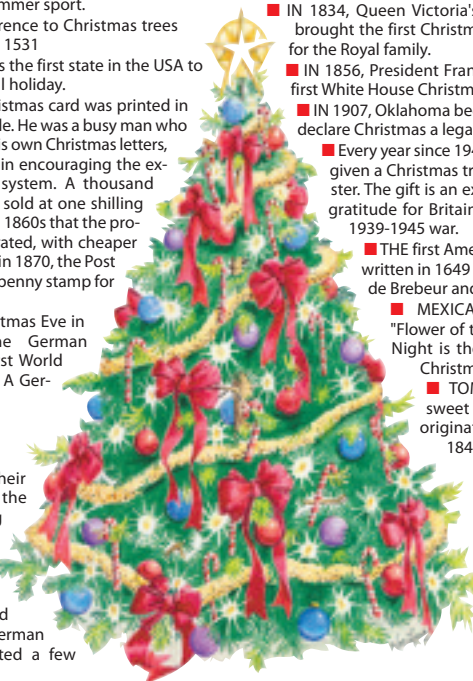

- A WREATH with holly, red berries and other decorations began from at least the 17th century. Holly, with its sharply pointed leaves, symbolised the thorns in Christ's crown-of-thorns. Red berries symbolised the drops of Christ's blood. A wreath at Christmas signified a home that celebrated to birth of Christ.

The best turkey in the world

by Jamie Oliver

In my books, the perfect bird is 6.5kg–8kg in weight because that's a good size to handle, feeds about 10 to 14 people and has better flavour than bigger birds. If you're buying from a small producer, like the lovely turkey I used from my mate Paul Kelly, you'll often find these birds come with their own cooking instructions. Really good-quality birds do cook in a shorter time so follow the instructions if it has them.

This year I'm using a flavoured butter to give a bit of extra love to my turkey, and this is a job you can do the day before. You can find my recipe in the Christmas issue of Jamie Magazine or simply make your own. Get your turkey and use a spoon to work your way between the skin and the meat. Start at the side of the cavity just above the leg and work gently up towards the breastbone and towards the back so you create a large cavity. Pick up half of your butter and push it into the cavity you've created. Use your hands to push it through the skin right to the back so it coats the breast meat as evenly as possible. Do the same on the other side then rub any leftover butter all over the outside of the bird to use it up. If you've got any herb stalks left over, put them in the cavity of the turkey for added flavour as it cooks. Cover the turkey in cling film and keep in the fridge until you need it.

Take your turkey out of the fridge a few hours before you are ready to put it in the oven so it has time to come up to room temperature. That flavoured butter will already be under the skin so you'll only need a few tweaks to finish it off. Halve 2 to 4 clementines and pop them in the cavity with a few more sprigs of fresh herbs like rosemary, bay and thyme. The fruit will steam and flavour the birds in a really lovely way. Take a sprig of fresh rosemary, pull off the leaves at the bottom then spear that through the loose skin around the cavity to hold it together and keep it from shrinking back as the turkey cooks.

Open up the neck cavity and pack as much stuffing as possible in there, then carefully pull the skin back over the cavity, tuck it under the bird and pop it in the roasting tray. If you've already made your gravy like I've done, you won't need a vegetable trivet, if not, do that now by roughly chopping 2 or 3 carrots, 3 peeled onions and 2 celery sticks. Preheat your oven to full whack and get the turkey in the roasting tray. As soon as it goes in the oven, immediately turn the heat down to 180°C/350°F/gas 4.

As a rough guide, you want to cook the turkey for about 35 to 40 minutes per kilogram, so a 7kg turkey will want about 4 to 4½ hours in the oven. But there are so many variables such as the sort of oven you have and the quality of your bird. Check on your turkey every 30 minutes or so and keep it from drying out by basting it with the lovely juices from the bottom of the pan. After 3½ hours, remove the foil so the skin gets golden and crispy. If you are at all worried just stick a meat thermometer in the thickest part of the breast. When the internal temperature has reached 65°C for a good quality bird, and about 82°C for a cheaper bird, it's ready to come out.

Carefully put a metal skewer in the cavity and use it to lift the bird and angle it over the roasting tray so all of the juices from the cavity run out. Move the turkey to a platter then cover it with a double layer of tinfoil and 2 tea towels to keep it warm while it rests for at least 30 minutes.

CRANFORD

BBC1, 9pm

The opening edition of this two-part special reintroduced viewers to Miss Matty Jenkyns, one of Judi Dench's most adorable small screen characters. In the concluding episode, she's in the thick of things once again when she and her friends are horrified after being told they are not aristocratic enough to rub shoulders with Lady Glenmire, a newcomer in their midst. Miss Matty is also concerned about Peggy, who looks set to make a personal sacrifice for the sake of her family — something her elderly friend can deeply sympathise with. Celia Imrie, Barbara Flynn, Jodie Whittaker and Imelda Staunton co-star.

The Day of the Triffids - 9pm BBC1

Choice

THE DAY OF THE TRIFFIDS

BBC1, 9pm

In the not-too-distant future, humanity's search for a renewable energy source has led to the discovery of triffids, a crop that can be grown for fuel. When spectators gather all over the world for a much-anticipated solar storm, billions of unsuspecting people are left blinded and those fortunate enough to have their sight can do little but watch as society begins to collapse into chaos. Meanwhile, the same event appears to have bestowed the plants with a life of their own — along with a taste for human flesh. The conclusion can be seen tomorrow at 9pm. ALAN CARR: CHATTY MAN NEW YEAR'S SPECIAL

Channel 4, 10.20pm

To see in the New Year, outgoing Doctor Who actor David Tennant, former Doctor's assistant and comedian Catherine Tate and Big Brother host Davina McCall join Carr for a drink and chat, along with reunited 80s popstars Spandau Ballet performing their hit Gold. Strange as it is to see the Northern funnyman presenting without fellow Sunday Night Project presenter Justin Lee Collins. Carr believes interviews don't have to delve into every gruesome detail of a celeb's life to be entertaining.

THE TURN OF THE SCREW

BBC1, 9pm

Henry James's classic novella has been adapted for the small screen. Michelle Dockery heads the cast as Ann, a governess who takes charge of two orphans living in the country house of their emotionally distant uncle. At first, she bonds with the children and their loyal housekeeper; their lives seem idyllic. But then Ann begins seeing two mysterious figures on the estate, which may or may not be the ghosts of two former servants who died in mysterious circumstances — and whose presence has a disturbing effect on the young and impressionable governess. Sue Johnston and Corin Redgrave also star.

JOOLS' ANNUAL HOOTENANNY 2009

BBC2, 11pm

There's only one place to be on New Year's Eve and that's in front of the box watching Jools and his various musical guests as they say hello to 2010 in style. Why bother spending vast amounts of cash seeing the New Year in with drunken revellers in your local boozer, when you can relax in the company of Jools and friends and listen to some decent music? As always, the new decade will be brought in by the pipes and drums of the 1st Battalion of The Scots Guards. DOCTOR WHO

BBC1, 6.40pm

Well, it's here at last — the last-ever episode of David Tennant's Tardis tenure. It's also, of course, the final script written by Russell T Davies. As anybody who tuned into Christmas Day's episode will already know, the Master is back — and he's even more bonkers than ever before. An ancient trap is also closing around the Earth. Only the Doctor knows how to stop it, and he has help from an unlikely companion — Donna's granddad Wilf. We already know the episode isn't going to end well for the gallivanting Gallifreyan, so get those hankies ready. Bernard Cribbins, John Simm, Timothy Dalton and Catherine Tate also star.

Ford leads the way in body repair standards

FORD is leading the automotive industry in securing BSI Kitemark certification for its network of approved repair centres.

More than 40 per cent of the 153-strong Ford Approved Repair Centre chain have already gained the increasingly important BSI PAS 125 standard and Kitemark licence and now, thanks to incentives offered by Ford, almost all of the remaining centres have signed up to become certified by the end of 2010.

"Ford is the first manufacturer fully to embrace the BSI PAS 125 Kitemark," said Nick Halliday, Ford's manager of collision repair marketing. "We believe that it's a vital standard to be achieved, a symbol of a quality product which brings peace of mind for the customer."

"The quality of repairs performed by our centres on Ford vehicles is already protected by our own rigorously checked standards; achieving the BSI PAS 125 Kitemark will mean that our repair centres can additionally offer a certified standard for non-Ford vehicles, which is something that leading insurers are increasingly insisting upon."

The PAS 125 Kitemark is operated by the independent standards and certification organisation BSI, and is an industry-agreed technical specification covering the whole process of vehicle body repair, detailing the minimum requirements for personnel training and maintenance of equipment, as well as the suitability of repair methods and the quality of materials used.

Scott Hanney, Sales Manager at BSI says "It is a fantastic step forward to have a vehicle manufacturer on board with Kitemark Vehicle Body Repair and we truly believe that Ford will soon see the benefits of this much-trusted Kitemark scheme."

HONITON RUNNERS

With Alan Nicholls

THE Reindeer Run at Otterton is always great fun and a festive atmosphere was certainly evident last Saturday.

There were plenty of Santas, elves and reindeer taking part together with dogs that were dressed for the season too.

Last year there was an enforced shortened route due to severe flooding the night before with plenty of deep water to wade through.

This year promised to be a more civilised race; the distance was back to 10k and all paths were back to normal.

The runners set off and although there was plenty of mud, the puddles were few and far between. This was the case for about 8k at which point runners needed to cross the road back at Otterton before completing the last part.

This involved being directed under the bridge and into deep water. What a shock to the system.

The water was freezing cold and waist height for the average sized person and for those vertically challenged the race had turned into a duathlon. If the runners were surprised, the dogs were startled. They never expected that!

The race was won by Chris Jones in a time of 38:05 and the first lady was Vicky Skelton in a time of 42:10. Honiton Running Club had a good turn out with Tim Legg having a go at this race for the first time finishing in seventh place and 41:20 saying he'll return next year.

Ever improving Bruce Strawbridge was next in 21st place and 44:24. He was given a run for his money by Richard Harvey who is coming back after a long break but has been training hard.

He finished three places and just 15 seconds behind Bruce in 24th place and 44:39.

Next home was Guy Paddon who was pleased with his run as he has not raced recently. Guy lost a fight with a bramble in the water and came out looking like his legs had been grated with a cheese grater.

Ceri Oak was the first Honiton lady home in 35th place and 46:19 followed by Judy Davey in 57th place and 48:57.

Judy had overtaken Roger Saunders fairly early on in the race and Roger then followed her with the same distance between them throughout.

He finished 62nd in 49:30. Warren Oak was 81st in 51:49 and Santa aka Brent Dicks was 104th in 54:15. Tracey Strawbridge completed the ladies' team in 192nd place and 1:11:10. There were 222 finishers in this race.

Prizes may have eluded the adults but the Juniors did not disappoint. In the 3k race Sam Urquhart was third overall in 13:35 and Lily Helston was second girl with fifth place overall in a time of 13:52. Her sister Isabel also took home a prize as third U12 girl. She was 18th overall in 16:17.

Katie Davey was the other winner of the day taking third U17 girl coming 23rd in a time of 16:30. Katie had a good battle with Jake Harvey and Kieran Anderson as well as Isabel. The four ended up with just 13 seconds between them and six places. Jake was 21st in 16:20 and Kieran was 22nd in 16:22. Jack Lovegrove was next home in 31st place and 18:30 with Ella Harvey not too far behind in 48th place and 20:06.

All juniors made the top 50 and with 135 finishers, this was some achievement.

Adult competitors were treated to mulled wine and a mince pie in the village hall afterwards and juniors were given some antlers as a souvenir.

Thanks to Graham Hill and his team who together with Sidmouth Running Club put on another fantastic event with money raised going to Otterton School.

AXE CLIFF with Helen Gaudie

THE men played their third round of the Winter League and it was the first time they played in winter conditions, very cold and wind.

In first place with a superb 45 points was P. Miller and P. Hellier, second was B. Gray and P. Smith with 42 points and third spot went to S. Vincent and J. Hughes with 40 points.

The Ladies played their Christmas Stableford it was reduced from 15 to 13 holes due to the very cold winter conditions. The winner with 20 points was Sandra Walker second was the captain Chris Drew with 19 points, but there were no losers, as all the ladies received a prize from the captain.

HONITON with Paul Dimond

GOLF is not a big sport within the Arctic Circle. The reasons for this became evident to the Gentlemen of Honiton on Sunday Morning.

A little light rain turned into a scattering of snow which promptly froze in one of the hardest frosts of the winter. Those gents who managed to keep their car out of the ditch, were forced to play on rock hard fairways and temporary greens, never the easiest when the temperatures have yet to get above freezing.

Making the best of the conditions in this 'two scores to count' team competition were Chris Earle, Mike Godfrey and Dave Maggs with 64 points. Following on 62 were Paul Blackmore, Steve Branch and Merv Blackmore. Third place went to Norman Black, Buzz Harris and Steve Bronby 2 further back on 60.

Seniors Section

THE Christmas festivities started last week with the traditional Seniors Lunch.

With invited guests including the Club President, Captain, Lady Captain, Secretary and Golf Pro 71 Seniors enjoyed an excellent meal from Honiton's renowned kitchen. The Club Captain then entertained the assembled throng with his after dinner speech.

In order to produce a healthy appetite prior to the lunch the usual two short Stableford competitions were held. Winner of the back nine competition was Fred Thomas obviously benefiting from his new bionic knee. Mike Hunt took the front nine prize with an impressive 23 points, 3 clear of his nearest rival. The biggest winner was perhaps Brian Smith who recorded the only two of the day and had to employ a couple of helpers to transport the sixty balls he won.

"Jack Frost" was the winner in this weeks Medal competition producing a record number of excuses not to play. Fifty four brave souls were however not deterred and in Division Two Steve Blundell proved equal to the conditions coming top with a net score of 69. Malcolm Matthews 71, Ray Cross 72, Colin Hughes 74 and Norman Ede 74 were the other winners.

In Division One and overall winner of the monthly tankard was Peter Shepherd also on 69. Bill Spice 73, Stan Squire 73, Geoff Filtness 75 and Harold Cook 76 were the other winners.

Once again only one two was recorded and Harold Cook wore the biggest smile of the day as he also able to go home with 48 golf balls.

Ladies Section

ON Wednesday the Ladies played a N/Q Stableford with frosted temporary greens making putting interesting.

Due to the number of players taking part the Silver and Bronze One Division was combined. The winner with 34 pts on c/b - Linda Northover. 2nd on c/b also 34 pts - Diana Gee. Bronze 2 - New member Lesley Farley with an excellent 39 pts. 2nd - Jan Lloyd 34 pts.

Mixed

THIRTY members played a Christmas Bring and Win Greensomes Stableford on Tuesday over 14 holes.

The prize table had a variety of items brought by the players and a number of the men had chosen to wear their Christmas Ties.

The first three place couples all had 25 points but on c/b the first pair to choose a prize were Joy Kerr and Vaughan Whiteley. 2nd on c/b were Gerda Brown and John Northover. 3rd on c/b were Barbara Eastwood and John Frith. 4th with 24 points - Avril and Peter Shepherd. 5th with 23 points - Linda Northover and Chris Poole. 6th - with 21 points - Sue Ritchie and Richard Pyle.

The remaining players then selected their prizes making everyone a winner.

FOOTBALL RESULTS, FIXTURES AND TABLES

Devon & Exeter League

STRUGGLING Feniton recovered from a two goal deficit at home to St Martins to grab a 2-2 draw and had two big chances near the end to have won it. Two Simon Madge goals put St Martins in charge, but John Phillips with a terrific solo goal and Ben Allen scored to earn Feniton a very useful point.

The shock new Premier leaders are Thorverton after their thrilling 4-3 win at Sidmouth Town. Both teams took to the field without a manager, and it was Sidmouth who went two goals ahead and looked well in control.

However Thorverton scored three goals in ten minutes before the break, the Vikings then made it 3-3 before substitute Scott Laskey came on and nabbed the winner. Andy Isaacs, Andy Thompson and Wes Tarr were the Sidmouth scorers.

Just one game survived the weather in Division ONE but saw Seaton Town regain top spot despite being held to a 1-1 draw by Beacon Knights. Josh French had the Seaton goal, Ryan Crocker equalised for the Exeter side who were rated the best team to play at Colyford road this season. Miles Alphonse starred for Seaton.

Hemyock won the only game played in Division Five at Exmouth Amateurs where they ran out 6-1.

UAU Exeter won 7-3 at Upwornham after being 3-2 down at the break. Shaun Leeg, Ant Taylor (pen) and Ben Hellier were the home scorers.

Ottery St Mary were 8-2 winners at Silverton with Wharton (2), Weeks (2), Searle, Salter, Purdy and an own goal counting, and Beer Albion won an entertaining match against the University 6-3 with James Melville scoring twice.

Rex Kirby, Sean Denslow, Jamie Trewick and Bob Adkin had singles.

Perry Street League

JUBILEE CUP FINAL

The pick of the League XI's match at Somerton against the Yeovil & District League was a casualty of the weekend's frozen pitches. The match will be re-scheduled for an evening match, possibly at Sherborne, in the New Year.

TOMMY TABBERER CUP ROUND ONE

UPLYME were furious that the first round tie at Beaminster Reserves was cancelled by referee Kelvin Day 40 seconds after the hosts had taken a 3-2 lead.

Assistant manager Andy Cleere said: "We felt the pitch was too dangerous to even start the match, but the referee felt it was ok. But for him then to abandon it just after Beaminster had scored, and the cut-off time of 70 minutes had lapsed, was puzzling." Beaminster stormed into an early 2-0 lead through Chris Park and Dan Hyett before Gavin Fowler pulled one back.

Beaminster's Tommy Record was then showed a straight red card by referee Day for a cynical foul on Adam Neale which left the promising teenager unable to continue, and with no substitutes Uplyme, like The Rainbows played the remainder of the match with 10 men.

Fowler netted his fifth of the season to level things up. Then Pyett grabbed his second and the game was stopped soon after. The two teams await the findings of PSL.

REG EGLON CUP

QUARTER-FINAL

CHARD United Reserves have a semi-final at Waytown Hounds on January 16th to look forward to after a 2-0 victory over Hawkchurch Reserves on a crispy Jocelyn Park.

The Hawks' looked to be in the ascendancy and heading for their first away win of the season after defending the slope and heading into the interval at 0-0. But Stefan Coombs with his eighth goal of the season and top-scorer Ricky Anderson with his 11th had other ideas.

Top performer for the visitors was Joe Carter in his holding midfield role. The other semi-final will see Thorncombe Reserves entertain cup favourites Farway United Reserves.

DIVISION TWO

AFTER a six-week lay-off it was back to business as usual for Millway Rise who re-established their seven point lead at the top with a comfortable 3-0 win over Chard United at First Avenue.

Goals from Danny Larcombe and Adam Whitehouse gave the Slopers a 2-0 lead at the break. Michael Knight completed the scoring with Chard offering very little threat to the Rise goal. Top performers for Millway were central-midfielder Callum Garrett and right-back Haydn Lewis.

A freak goal from Ashley Rose gave him his seventh goal of the campaign and second-placed Norton Athletic all three points at Hinton. Rose scuffed a corner kick along the floor to deceive Saints' defenders and goalkeeper alike and creep over the line.

Dowlish & Donyatt ended a run of four home defeats with a 2-0 win over visiting Forton Rangers Reserves. It was goal less at the break but strikes from Andy North and Chris Lang were enough to see the hosts, with Ben Charlton in sparkling form, head into 2010 in third spot.

DIVISION FOUR

WINSHAM United Reserves are in pole-position heading into the New Year after crushing bottom of the table Charmouth Reserves 9-1 at Bakers Field.

Goals from Vinny Allen and Richard White saw the Wins 2-0 up at-half time. The second half saw the goals scattered around between White, Ryan Powell (2), Carl Moore, Henry Broom, Paul Stuart and Rob Long with Dan Edwards on target for the Robins.

The result gave Winsham their biggest win for more than three years when Chard United Reserves were thrashed 10-1.

Promotion chasing Waytown Hounds received a set-back when they were beaten 4-2 at Ilminster A. Goals from Luke Paul, Josh House and an OG put the hosts firmly in control before Tom Rutland reduced the arrears. House scored his second from the penalty spot to give his side a 4-1 interval advantage.

There were two more penalties in the second-half - one for each team - and both were saved, House and Matt Read being the unsuccessful men.

Rutland did net his second but Ilminster were worth their points.

Farway United Reserves completed a League double with a 3-0 win at Combe B who failed to find the net for the first time this season. Lewis Grant (2) and Chris Legg were on target for the visitors.

Rugby Round-up

with Keith Jenkin

THE WEATHER WINS!

WHAT the rain has been trying to achieve in the way of postponed league matches, with only a modicum of success in recent weeks, the frost managed to do passing well on Saturday last.

A bone hard Allhallows caused the HONITON club's league game against visitors SOUTH MOLTON, together with their Colts' battle with Exeter Chiefs Colts, to be called off.

SIDMOUTH too had to postpone their South West League Division One (West) encounter. They did have some hopes that the game might be able to go ahead, and, in fact, opponents IVY-BRIDGE travelled.

The referee however ruled that the match should not proceed on health and safety grounds. All the club's other games also fell victim to the weather.

Postponements were, in the event, widespread and, of the teams in my patch, only Dorchester any saw action and they travelled to Bath and lost to Oldfield Old Boys by 32-10.

Not a particularly good day all round.

To add insult to injury so to speak, an overnight shower on Saturday, followed by clearing skies, made many roads resemble glass bottles, and no Honiton Juniors games took place on Sunday morning as a result.

PREVIEW

AS Saturday next happens to be Boxing Day, league rugby will, of course, take a day off. Both local clubs will be engaged in more informal activities however.

SIDMOUTH stage their traditional Club versus President's XV at the Blackmoor that has a kick off time of 2.30pm. Generally speaking, Presidents' sides include quite a number of exiles, guys who, although they work away from home, are spending the holiday with the family.

These occasions represent a chance to catch up with old chums, and I doubt if this one will be too different.

HONITON have a rather more relaxed idea to celebrate the festive occasion. At 11.30am on Boxing morning, an inter club encounter will take place.

Come one, come all will be guaranteed a run out if they bring boots (and may be those who do not). It will be really a free for all and no excuse, be it unfitness, inebriation, (especially not that one) or never having played the game before, will be accepted.

In fact it represents a chance to run off the excesses of the previous 24 hours, and as such should represent a "must" in which to partake.

May you have all you would wish for yourselves this Christmas, and beyond.

ECB colts awards for Axminster cricketers

OVER the last ten weeks some 40 aspiring young cricketers have been involved in an ECB introductory course run by coaches from the club.

On Sunday evening many were present to receive certificates on completion of the course. Club President Les Haynes was on hand to present certificates to all that had attended and in his address he noted that the club should be proud of it's achievements with regard to the organisation of the junior section.

He thanked the coaches led by Andrew Moulding and Dan Murnane, together with their coaching assistants, in continuing the winter sessions. He also thanked the many parents who showed their support by attending the evening.

The players and coaches now take a break for a few weeks but coaching/practice sessions will recommence in the new year.

The club has this winter already seen three members acquiring their Level 1 Coaching Award and have three more expecting to obtain the same level early in 2010.

A truly satisfying side of this for the club is that many of the qualified coaches within the club would have started their cricketing career on the introductory course as juniors several years ago and have now graduated to be in a position to encourage others.

Parents to have been encouraged to help over the years and some now feel confident enough to aim for the coaching assistance award.

The club has been fortunate in obtaining funding to assist with the course fees for, not only coaches, but also those for umpires and scorers. Anyone interested in becoming involved should contact the club secretary Geoff Enticott 01297 32147.

HONITON NETBALL

With Graham Ingram

HONITON Netball League would like to wish every one of the readers a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. This week was the final week before Christmas and games will resume early in the New Year.

Results - Division Two: Bampton 51 CMC Birds 1, Flmingos B 20 Weather Girls 26, Sidmouth Toucans 42 MNAS Vehicle Repairs 27, Tip Top Trees Acorns 32 Lyme Bay 8. FLAMINGOS had to face unbeaten Met Office with just six players, nevertheless they made the Weather girls work hard.

With Becks Green once again in great form for the Met Office they were 8-3 up at half way before Flamingos outscored them in the second period to find themselves 10-14 down at half way. The third quarter was also close with Poppy Williams having a fine game for Flamingos, so that at the start of the final period Weather Girls were just five up at 21-16. Although Flamingos worked hard their player disadvantage told and they ended the night on the wrong end of the 26-20 scoreline.

Weather Girls are now two points clear at the top and still unbeaten. Tip Top Trees Acorns moved back into second place due to their comfortable win over Lyme Bay. Acorns led from the off and never looked in danger and ended the night winners by 32-8, a much more convincing win than when they had last met. Bampton did their promotion chances a power of good when they recorded their second big win over CMC Birds, and for the second time this season restricted the Birds to a single goal. Bampton scored a convincing 51-1 win to give themselves the best goal difference in the division! Player of the night for Bampton was Debbie Blakes.

Final game of the night saw Sidmouth Toucans retain their hopes of promotion thanks to a win over NAS. With Helen Terry playing well they were just too strong for NAS for whom Sarah Green once again turned in a fine display. Sidmouth led 20-12 at half way, and headed into the final session 34-18 when then ended up winners by 42-27. The score gave NAS a point and kept them in seventh place.

ANOTHER spell of mixed results. The friendlies finished with three victories and one defeat, whilst the County games proved rather a nightmare.

The first, a County Men's Over 60s match with Plymouth was not completed owing to a mix-up over the start time of the away leg. The second, a Men's Inter Club match against Mid-Devon ended in a 25 shot defeat despite the great efforts of Chris Coombes, Geoff Clode, Gerald Knott, and Charlie Barber who recorded an excellent away win (22-18).

The mixed friendlies started with a home defeat by Donyatt (48-66) with no winners but we went on to complete two good home wins, firstly against Isca (35-29) with Ann Clayton, Les Monk, Lilian Lovatt, and Margaret Crompton the top rink (19-14) and against Yeovil (50-49) in a truly nail-biting game with the best rink being Ann Clayton, Liz Earl, Lilian Lovatt, and David Harris (20-16). The Mens' friendly with Westlands ended in an excellent 81-38 win with a top rink of Ron Bicknell, Gerald Knott, Malcolm Denslow, and David Boyland (37-6).

Congratulations to our Ladies trio of Ann Clayton, Nola Stephens, and Margaret Crompton who completed an overwhelming victory over Budleigh Ladies in the County Knock-out competition (31-6) which indeed also included a 'hot-shot'.

Also to be congratulated on a 'hot-shot' are Francis Marsh, John Sweetland, Albert Brown, and Betty Hudson who accomplished this feat in an internal league match.

May I wish all members and friends a very happy Christmas and a successful New Year.

AXE VALLEY RUNNERS

With Dave Mutter

ON Saturday night six AVR's and one guest did the Midwinter Dream pub run, a 17mile multi-terrain route from Seaton. On a surprisingly balmy night, Garry Perratt, Andrew Knight, Chris Irving, Chris Keeffe, Richard Dodge and Dorset Dodder Andy Goodman left the Hook and Parrot at 6pm. Their first port of call was the Harbour in Axmouth for a quick drink before starting the off-roading on the way up to the Gerrard Arms in Colyton where Liam Roberts met them.

Then followed the longest leg, up into Jobblehayes Wood with half the runners braving Heathayne Ford which was surprisingly uncold, down into Southleigh, up through the woods past Blackbury Castle then over to the Three Horseshoes. After some very welcome soup and rolls the seven went down through Beckham Woods and on to the Fountainhead for another drink before following the coast path to Branscombe Mouth.

Chris Keeffe went on ahead from East Cliff to get back for a shower before boozing the night away at the Grove but the oldies took it more steadily to Beer and by mutual agreement skipped the pub stop, instead heading directly to Seaton to refuel with kebab & chips. And thus ended an all-round fantastic experience with forgiving weather and a great view of the stars from East Cliff.

There was a weak winter sun in a cloudless blue sky at Hemyock for the 25th Wellington Monument "Bert King Memorial" Road Race on Sunday. It's a 6.27 miles return journey up to the monument from The Catherine Wheel public house in the village square. This could have been perfect ending for the racing year for Richard Hale, Luke Reed, Eleanor Wood and Liam Roberts having already passed safely along the wintry roads and lanes on the way to Hemyock. Unfortunately race organisers of the increasingly popular event sensibly decided at the last moment that the icy conditions were too dangerous and the race was duly cancelled.

This brought a round of sympathetic applause for the worried organisers from the crowd of runners in the School Hall. A hot toddy and mince pies were still on offer though to appease the disappointed throng as was a special 25th race anniversary hat. Appreciative runners had something warm to wear on the slow icy journey home.

◆ SEATON Town Football Club has a flourishing Youth Section which this year has seven teams covering the age range from eight to 13. There is tremendous support from parents and organisers for the Youth Section but they lack playing facilities. The under eight and nine teams hold their games on the Play Area at Elizabeth Road, which is not a designated football field, and maintenance is difficult. In recent months four organisations have provided invaluable financial support for the Youth Section. The Yorkshire Building Society's agency at Thomas Westcott Chartered Accountants donated £250 from their Community Investment Fund which was established to help small local community causes. Similar amounts were given by Seaton Lions Club, Seaton Phoenix and Seaton Town Council. The funds were used to provide new kit, equipment for training and matches, a new line-marking machine and storage facilities. All those working with the youngsters have expressed their gratitude for this support.
